Prof. Emeritus Richard B. Lee Speaking at Film Screening on Voter Suppression Today

Prof. Richard B. Lee and Michael Keefer will be giving introductions for the special first cut preview of Election Day in Canada: The Rise of Voter Suppression this evening (Thursday, October 15) at 7:00pm, New College Room 1017. The film screening will be followed by a discussion with the filmmaker, Peter Smoczyński. Donations for the film are being accepted at <http://www.gofundme.com/EDayFilm>. See also <http://twitter.com/EDayFilm>.

Materialities, Histories, and the Spatialization of State Sovereignty by Valentina Napolitano, Nimrod Luz, and Nurit Stadler

Prof. Napolitano has co-authored the introduction appearing in a special issue of Religion and Society on Borderlands and Religion (Vol. 6, No. 1, pp. 90-97). The introduction discusses existing and potentially new intersections of border theories and religious studies in relation to two contested regions: US-Mexico and Israel-Palestine. The authors argue for a recentring of borderland studies through an analysis of political theologies, affective labor, and differing configurations of religious heritage, traces, and materiality. The introduction can be downloaded here.

Sustaining the Nation: The Making and Moving of Language and Nation by Monica Heller, Lindsay A. Bell, Michelle Daveluy, Mireille McLaughlin, and Hubert Noël

Preorders are now being accepted for new book co-written by Prof. Monica Heller, Anthropology cross-appointment and President of the AAA. Published by Oxford Studies in Sociolinguistics, the book is an ethnography of labour mobility and its challenges to the idea of the nation. Using the example of francophone Canada, it examines how social difference-race, ethnicity, language, gender-has been used to sort out who must (or can) be mobile and who must (or can) remain in place in the organization of global circulation of human and natural resources.

Vervet Monkeys Use Paths Consistent with Context-Specific Spatial Movement Heuristics by Julie Teichroeb

Prof. Julie Teichroeb has published an article in Ecology and Evolution (doi:10.1002/ece3.1755) about her research on foraging routes of captive vervet monkeys. The article has been posted on Prof. Teichroeb's academic.edu page here.

Awards & Funding Opportunities

The American Academy in Rome invites applications for the 2016 Rome Prize

For over a century, the Academy has awarded the Rome Prize to support innovative work in the arts and humanities. Through a national juried competition, Rome Prizes are awarded to emerging and established artists and scholars. Ranging from six months to two years, the thirty fellowships include a stipend, room and board, and individual workspace at the Academy's eleven-acre center in Rome. Submissions are due November 1, 2015. Visit <http://aarome.org/apply> for guidelines and further info.

CASCA Richard F. Salisbury Award

Applications can be made by any student member of CASCA undertaking doctoral level research in the field of anthropology at a Canadian university. Preference will be given to those who have completed their comprehensive examinations, have approved thesis proposals and are within one year of beginning fieldwork. CASCA recognizes that some eligible candidates may not be studying in anthropology programs, however all candidates must be members of CASCA when making their applications. The intent of the award is to assist with fieldwork expenses.

Criteria: An outstanding academic record and an excellent research proposal with innovative scholarly import and social relevance. Value: $2000

Deadline: All application materials must be submitted electronically by 1 February 2016 to Pauline McKenzie Aucoin at rpaucoin@aol.com. Further info available here.

Call for Scholarship Proposals, Off the Beaten Track

This call is aimed at budding researchers with creative and open minds towards the challenges of applied research. We offer a unique learning opportunity in a multidisciplinary research project on the isle of Gozo, Malta. Expeditions and the University of Leuven offer 9 scholarships to cover part or all of the tuition fee for the 2016 Malta Summer School. Scholarships are granted on a competitive basis, based on a research proposal.

Selection is NOT based on academic merit, originality or complexity. We aim for enthusiasm, dedication and creativity. In the past years even students who were not enrolled in an anthropology program received scholarships for the project. The deadline for submissions is January 5th, 2016.

Please note that the number of students accepted in the program is limited. Scholarships will be granted only after the completion of the selection procedure, while registration is open to non-scholarship participants. In case you wish to join the project even if you do not receive a scholarship, we advise to register through the regular procedure as early as possible since non-scholarship slots are usually filled by the end of December. Further info: <http://www.anthropologyfieldschool.org/info/scholarship/scholarship.html>

Upcoming Conferences & Workshops

Getting a Grasp on Harm Reduction Workshop, October 21, 2015, Toronto Hostels Training Centre

This one day workshop is designed to provide historical context for harm reduction initiatives and practices in Toronto, and to introduce the concept of both substance use and harm reduction as continua. We will explore some of the roots and effects of stigma and NIMBYism; some barriers/solutions to implementing harm reduction models, and the efficacy of harm reduction strategies. An example of a practical application of harm reduction illustrating the value of including peer expertise in projects and programs will be afforded through an examination of overdose risks and responses. Further info and registration at <http://thtcentre.com/events/getting-a-grasp-on-harm-reduction-2/>

Racial Justice Matters: Advocating for Racial Health Equity, October 23-24, 2015, Dalla Lana School of Public Health 8th Annual Student-Led Conference

This this two-day conference aims to bring the health impact of race and racism to the forefront of public health by providing a forum for practitioners, academics, community members and students to:

1. Facilitate knowledge exchange and increase awareness about the new findings from research and practice on racism and health.
2. Connect individuals and organizations working on these issues to develop innovative collaborations locally.
3. Empower participants to apply learned knowledge into future projects focused on reducing the health impacts of racism and mitigate racism in all its forms.

As global discussions on racial inequities are heating up, the conference committee is excited to dedicate two days toward exploring the health-related inequities that occur as a result of racism and how the field of public health can intervene. They are especially excited to engage in discussions around how multiple sectors can and must collaboratively work together to find solutions to address structural racism. The importance of these discussions are reflected in the nature of conference sub-themes, which include:

- Aboriginal and Indigenous Health
- Newcomer, Immigrant and Refugee Health
- Environmental Racism and the Built Environment
- Racialized Health in the Digital Age
- Systemic and Institutionalized Racism
- Gaining Anti-Racism Skills for Public Health
